DETAILED ACTION

Reissue Applications

1. Claims 1-34 and 58-83 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter surrendered in the application for the patent upon which the present reissue is based. See Hester Industries, Inc. v. Stein, Inc., 142 F.3d 1472, 46 USPQ2d 1641 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Clement, 131 F.3d 1464, 45 USPQ2d 1161 (Fed. Cir. 1997); Ball Corp. v. United States, 729 F.2d 1429, 1436, 221 USPQ 289, 295 (Fed. Cir. 1984). A broadening aspect is present in the reissue which was not present in the application for patent. The record of the application for the patent shows that the broadening aspect (in the reissue) relates to subject matter that applicant previously surrendered during the prosecution of the application. Accordingly, the narrow scope of the claims in the patent was not an error within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 251, and the broader scope surrendered in the application for the patent cannot be recaptured by the filing of the present reissue application. In Claim 1, line 21 and Claim 16, line 17 of the instant reissue application, "projection from" has been deleted. This is an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter because applicant surrendered the "projecting from" limitation in the parent case. Claims 30-34 are missing the limitations of the transport arm projecting from the axis/drive shaft in combination with arms operatively coupled to conveyors to move the conveyors move the conveyors relative to the axis/drive shaft. This is an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter of the present reissue application because applicant surrendered these limitations in the parent case.

In the parent case, Claims 8 and 9 were put in independent form in combination with the limitations of Claim 1. Claim 8 included the limitations “projecting from”. Because applicant intentionally put the limitations of both Claim 8 and Claim 9 in combination with independent Claim 1, applicant surrendered the subject matter of Claims 8 and 9. Applicant essentially amended the claims to place the claims in condition for allowance. The examiner in the parent case indicated that Claim 9 included allowable subject matter and that if applicant put the limitations therein in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims the case would be allowed. Since applicant also included the limitations of Claim 8 into independent form, the limitations therein were also surrendered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 6/16/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

3. Applicant argues that the “projection from” language of claim 8 was not included into claim 1 of the parent application (07/888,111) in order to obtain allowance of claim 1. Applicant also argues that claim 8 was incorporated into claim 1 merely to provide antecedent basis for claim 9 in which the arms (the arms of claim 8) were defined as the driving means. Furthermore, applicant states that claim 8 had also been rejected as anticipated by a JP reference.

However, the examiner in the parent application indicated that claim 9 included allowable subject matter and that if applicant put the limitations therein in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims, the case would be allowed (see page 5 of paper #6, dated 11/25/92 in parent application 07/888,111). Since applicant also included the limitations of claim 8 into independent form, the limitations therein were also surrendered. Applicant intentionally put the limitations of both Claim 8 and Claim 9 in combination with independent Claim 1, and therefore surrendered the subject matter of Claims 8 and 9. Applicant did not only put the limitations of claim 9 into independent claim 1 to allow the case.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
